- 5.1. We may, pursuant to your instructions, introduce you to our Affiliates in order for you to establish and carry one or more Account(s) in your name, for the purposes of providing Brokerage Services. You shall become a client of the relevant Affiliate and you will be subject to the terms of business of the relevant Affiliate which will govern your relationship and Account with that Affiliate.
- 5.2. We will not be responsible or liable to you for the provision of Brokerage Services by our Affiliate(s) and our Services shall be limited to those described in clause 4. You acknowledge that you have no right of recourse against us in respect of any services provided by an Affiliate.
- 5.3. Account statements and confirmations will be provided to you by our Affiliate(s) with whom your Account is held. For the avoidance of doubt, we will not issue you with any Account statements and/or confirmations.
- 5.4. You should be aware that the regulatory regimes applying to any Affiliate will be different from that applying in Hong Kong including the varying levels and types of protections in respect of Transactions executed for you on different markets and exchanges.
- 5.5. Any cash for your Account will be held by the relevant Affiliate in accordance with the client money rules (if any) applicable to it in the jurisdiction in which it operates and we will not credit or debit any monies to any Account in respect of any Transactions effected by you. - 5.6. Any margin required from you shall be payable to the relevant Affiliate with whom your Account is held. We will not, and are not required by Applicable Laws to, collect margin from you.

6. CLIENT ASSETS

- 6.1. We may hold client assets within the meaning of Schedule 1 to the SFO. If we do so, we will hold such client assets in accordance with the SFO and its subsidiary legislation.

7. ACTING AS INTERMEDIARY

- 7.1. Where you are an agent or otherwise acting on behalf of or for the benefit of any other person (the "Principal") then, even if you disclose that fact and/or identify that person to us, we will (save to the extent provided in this clause below) treat you alone as our client for all purposes relating to these Terms, and (subject to Applicable Law) we shall not owe any contractual, regulatory or other obligations to the Principal.

- 7.2. You, as agent for your Principal and on your own behalf, retain full responsibility for making all investment decisions with respect to any Principal.
- 7.3. You undertake and warrant that if you are party to a Transaction entered into and executed pursuant to these Terms as agent for, or on behalf of, a Principal, then:
 - 7.3.1. in doing so, you are expressly authorised by, or otherwise acting within the scope of the authority you have received from your Principal;
 - 7.3.2. your Principal is duly organised and validly existing under the laws of its jurisdiction of incorporation or organisation;
 - 7.3.3. your Principal has full power, authority and legal capacity to perform all obligations contemplated by these Terms;

 - 7.3.5. any information which you provide or have provided to us in respect of your or your Principal's financial position, domicile or other matters is accurate and not misleading in any material respect;
 - 7.3.6. you will procure the performance by your Principal of all obligations and liabilities arising under or by virtue of the Terms or any Transaction or other investment business carried out hereunder; and
 - 7.3.7. you are now and will be at all material times in the future in compliance with Applicable Laws concerning the detection of financial crime, prevention of terrorism and anti-money laundering.
- 7.4. Where you have notified us of the identity of Principal account to which an instruction relates, you will have no liability under these Terms in relation to the Transaction entered into pursuant to such instruction. In the event that you do not provide us with actual notice of the Principal account to which an instruction relates, you shall be liable to us as principal in relation to the Transaction entered into pursuant to such instruction.
- 7.5. You undertake, as agent for each Principal and on your own behalf, to notify us immediately if any two or more Principal accounts relate to the same Principal. We shall, subject to these Terms, administer Principal accounts which we reasonably believe relate to two different Principals separately.
- 7.6. We shall in respect of each Principal be entitled to set off any amount at any time owing from the relevant Principal account on any account referable to that Principal against any amount owing by us to that Principal or standing to the credit of the relevant Principal on any account which is referable to that Principal and any security, guarantee or indemnity given to us by or in respect of the relevant Principal for any purpose shall extend to any amount owing from that Principal after the exercise of such right. Where we exercise any right of set-off, security or lien against a Principal of yours, we will only do so in respect of liabilities due to us by that Principal. We will not use the assets of your Principal in any way whatsoever to meet the liabilities due to us from a different Principal of yours.

- 7.7. Where you are acting as trustee of a trust, the value of any claims made against you as principal under these Terms shall be limited to the value of the net assets of the trust at the time of making the claim.
- 7.8. If any Principal of yours commits an Event of Default under clause 14, you undertake:
- 7.8.1. promptly to disclose the address and identity of such Principal; and
 - 7.8.2. to take all reasonable steps to assist us in rectifying such failure including instituting legal proceedings against any underlying client of yours.

8. INSTRUCTIONS

- 8.1. You authorise us to rely and act upon, and treat as fully authorised and binding upon you, any instruction which purports to have been given and which is accepted by us in good faith as having been given by you or on your behalf, without further enquiry on our part as to the genuineness, authority or identity of the person giving or purporting to give such instruction and regardless of the circumstances prevailing at the time, and notwithstanding any communication you may have made or may make to us purporting to limit the persons from whom we may accept instructions, unless such limitations have been agreed in writing by us or have been expressly requested by us in writing. Notwithstanding the foregoing, we may require, and you shall provide, evidence of any such authority provided to any person acting, or purporting to act, for you or on your behalf. You will be responsible for and bound by all contracts, obligations, costs and expenses entered into or incurred by us on your behalf in consequence of or in connection with such instructions.
- 8.2. Any instruction is transmitted at your own risk in such manner as may be specified by us or agreed between you and us from time to time. We shall not be responsible or liable in any way for any loss, damage, cost or expense suffered by you on account of any instruction not being received by us (whether transmitted through an electronic system or not) or not being acted upon. For the avoidance of doubt, you shall not assume that an instruction has been acted upon until you receive the relevant trade confirmation from our Affiliate. Irrespective of the means of communication used by you for delivery of orders or instructions, we shall not be responsible for and you hereby discharge us from any liability for (i) any errors, ambiguity, inaccuracies, incomplete orders or instructions or any omissions in any instructions given by you; (ii) any delays in transmission or any systems or service unavailability; (iii) any risks associated with unauthorised interventions, or improper or fraudulent use of such means of communication; and (iv) any other causes beyond our control.

- 8.6. You shall promptly (and within any time limit imposed by us) give any instructions we may reasonably request from you in respect of any Services provided under these Terms. If you do not do so, we may in our sole discretion take any steps at your cost which we consider appropriate for our or for your protection.
- 8.7. To the extent permitted by Applicable Law and in order to comply with internal policies we may in our absolute discretion record telephone conversations with you and will normally record telephone, mobile phone or other mobile handheld electronic communications device based conversations between you and our employees who act in a trading or sales capacity. All instructions received by telephone shall be binding as if received in writing.

Appendix 3

CLIENT IDENTITY RULES

1. The client identity rule and the client identity rule policy of the SFC (the “Client Identity Rules”) require us to obtain and record client identity information before anything is done to provide you with any Services. Further, if the Regulator requests such information, we must provide it within two Business Days of the day the request is made, although in exceptional market conditions the Regulator may require information shortly after a Transaction occurs.
2. Following our receipt of a request from a Regulator we will send you a request for information. You agree immediately to inform us of the identity, address, contact details and occupation of:
 - 2.1. the person ultimately responsible for originating the instruction in relation to the Transaction;
 - 2.2. the person who is the recipient of the economic or commercial benefit of the Transaction or bearer of such risk;
 - 2.3. if relevant, the client for whom the Transaction was carried out; and
 - 2.4. such other information required by a Regulator (together, referred to as the “Client Identity Information”).
3. In certain instances in connection with our request to you pursuant to clause 1.2 above, you may prefer not to disclose the identities of your clients to us, for example, where you act as agent for a third party (the “Beneficiary”). The Regulators may treat our client identity obligation as discharged if you agree to provide the information about the Beneficiary of that Transaction and details of the person originating the instruction for that Transaction on request directly to the Regulator. Accordingly, where we have received a request from the Regulator in respect of a Transaction effected by you for another client (whether as agent or on a back-to-back basis) and to the extent permitted by Applicable Law, you agree immediately to provide the Client Identity Information to the relevant Regulator in Hong Kong.
4. You agree that your obligations to provide Client Identity Information to us or a Regulator in Hong Kong under this clause 4 shall survive even after the termination of these Terms or of any terms of business between you and our Affiliate.
5. You should note that, in relation to a collective investment scheme the “person” referred to above is the collective investment scheme or account, and the manager of that collective investment scheme or account, not those who hold a beneficial interest in that collective investment scheme or account (e.g. the unit holders of a unit trust).
6. If you are acting for or on behalf of a collective investment scheme, discretionary account or discretionary trust, you must:
 - 6.1. upon our request (which request shall include the relevant contact details of the Regulator in Hong Kong), inform us or the Regulator in Hong Kong within the required timeframes of the Client Identity Information of the scheme, account or trust; and
 - 6.2. as soon as practicable, inform us when your discretion to invest on behalf of the scheme, account or trust has been overridden. In the case where your investment discretion has been overridden, you must immediately upon our request (which request shall include the relevant contact details of the Regulator in Hong Kong), inform us or the Regulator in Hong Kong of the Client Identity Information of the person(s) who has or have given the order or instruction in relation to the Transaction.

RISK WARNINGS AND FURTHER DISCLOSURES

All investment is subject to risk and the degree of risk is a matter of judgement and cannot be accurately pre-determined. We give no warranty and make no guarantees as to the performance or profitability of any of your Accounts, Transactions or your other products and investments or any part thereof. To the extent that you engage in Transactions in Securities and other investments your attention is drawn to the specific risk disclosures which are set out below.

This information is not intended to constitute a comprehensive statement of all the risks to which investors might be exposed and there may be others that exist now or which may arise in the future. In light of the risks, you should undertake such transactions only if you understand the nature of the contracts (and contractual relationships) into which you are entering and the extent of your exposure to risk. You should carefully consider whether trading is appropriate for you in light of your experience, objectives, financial resources and other relevant circumstances.

RISKS OF SECURITIES TRADING

The prices of securities fluctuate, sometimes dramatically. The price of a security may move up or down, and may become valueless. It is as likely that losses will be incurred rather than profit made as a result of buying and selling securities.

RISK OF TRADING GROWTH ENTERPRISE MARKET STOCKS

Growth Enterprise Market (GEM) stocks involve a high investment risk. In particular, companies may list on GEM with neither a track record of profitability nor any obligation to forecast future profitability. GEM stocks may be very volatile and illiquid.

You should make the decision to invest only after due and careful consideration. The greater risk profile and other characteristics of GEM mean that it is a market more suited to professional and other sophisticated investors.

Current information on GEM stocks may only be found on the internet website operated by The Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited. GEM Companies are usually not required to issue paid announcements in gazetted newspapers.

You should seek independent professional advice if you are uncertain of or have not understood any aspect of this risk disclosure statement or the nature and risks involved in trading of GEM stocks.

RISKS OF CLIENT ASSETS RECEIVED OR HELD OUTSIDE HONG KONG

Client assets received or held by the licensed or registered person outside Hong Kong are subject to the applicable laws and regulations of the relevant overseas jurisdiction which may be different from the SFO and the rules made thereunder. Consequently, such client assets may not enjoy the same protection as that conferred on client assets received or held in Hong Kong.

RISK OF MARGIN TRADING

The risk of loss in financing a transaction by deposit of collateral is significant. You may sustain losses in excess of your cash and any other assets deposited as collateral with the licensed or registered person. Market conditions may make it impossible to execute contingent orders, such as "stop-loss" or "stop-limit" orders. You may be called upon at short notice to make additional margin deposits or interest payments. If the required margin deposits or interest payments are not made within the prescribed time, your collateral may be liquidated without your consent. Moreover, you will remain liable for any resulting deficit in your account and interest charged on your account. You should therefore carefully consider whether such a financing arrangement is suitable in light of your own financial position and investment objectives.

RISK OF TRADING NASDAQ-AMEX SECURITIES AT THE STOCK EXCHANGE OF HONG KONG LIMITED

The securities under the Nasdaq-Amex Pilot Program (“PP”) are aimed at sophisticated investors. You should consult the licensed or registered person and become familiarised with the PP before trading in the PP securities. You should be aware that the PP securities are not regulated as a primary or secondary listing on the Main Board or the Growth Enterprise Market of The Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited.

ADDITIONAL RISK DISCLOSURE FOR OPTIONS TRADING

This brief statement does not disclose all of the risks and other significant aspects of trading in options. In light of the risks, you should undertake such transactions only if you understand the nature of the contracts (and contractual relationships) into which you are entering and the extent of your exposure to risk. Trading in options is not suitable for many members of the public. You should carefully consider whether trading is appropriate for you in light of your experience, objectives, financial resources and other relevant circumstances.

1. Variable degree of risk

Transactions in options carry a high degree of risk. Purchasers and sellers of options should familiarise themselves with the type of option (i.e. put or call) which they contemplate trading and the associated risks. You should calculate the extent to which the value of the options must increase for your position to become profitable, taking into account the premium and all transaction costs.

The purchaser of options may offset or exercise the options or allow the options to expire. The exercise of an option results either in a cash settlement or in the purchaser acquiring or delivering the underlying interest. If the option is on a futures contract, the purchaser will acquire a futures position with associated liabilities for margin. If the purchased options expire worthless, you will suffer a total loss of your investment which will consist of the option premium plus transaction costs. If you are contemplating purchasing deep-out-of-the-money options, you should be aware that the chance of such options becoming profitable ordinarily is remote.

Selling (“writing” or “granting”) an option generally entails considerably greater risk than purchasing options. Although the premium received by the seller is fixed, the seller may sustain a loss well in excess of that amount. The seller will be liable for additional margin to maintain the position if the market moves unfavourably. The seller will also be exposed to the risk of the purchaser exercising the option and the seller will be obligated to either settle the option in cash or to acquire or deliver the underlying interest. If the option is on a futures contract, the seller will acquire a position in a futures contract with associated liabilities for margin. If the option is “covered” by the seller holding a corresponding position in the underlying interest or a futures contract or another option, the risk may be reduced. If the option is not covered, the risk of loss can be unlimited.

Certain exchanges in some jurisdictions permit deferred payment of the option premium, exposing the purchaser to liability for margin payments not exceeding the amount of the premium. The purchaser is still subject to the risk of losing the premium and transaction costs. When the option is exercised or expires, the purchaser is responsible for any unpaid premium outstanding at that time.

2. Terms and conditions of contracts

You should ask the firm with which you deal about the terms and conditions of the specific options which you are trading and associated obligations (e.g. expiration dates and restrictions on the time for exercise). Under certain circumstances the specifications of outstanding contracts (including the exercise price of an option) may be modified by the exchange or clearing house to reflect changes in the underlying interest.

3. Suspension or restriction of trading and pricing relationships

Market conditions (e.g. illiquidity) and/or the operation of the rules of certain markets (e.g. the suspension of trading in any contract or contract month because of price limits or “circuit breakers”) may increase the risk of loss by making it difficult or impossible to effect transactions or liquidate/offset positions. If you have sold options, this may increase the risk of loss.

Further, normal pricing relationships between the underlying interest and the option may not exist. The absence of an underlying reference price may make it difficult to judge “fair value”.

4. Deposited cash and property

You should familiarise yourself with the protections given to money or other property you deposit for domestic and foreign transactions, particularly in the event of a firm insolvency or bankruptcy. The extent to which you may recover your money or property may be governed by specific legislation or local rules. In some jurisdictions, property which had been specifically identifiable as your own will be pro-rated in the same manner as cash for purposes of distribution in the event of a shortfall.

5. Commission and other charges

Before you begin to trade, you should obtain a clear explanation of all commission, fees and other charges for which you will be liable. These charges will affect your net profit (if any) or increase your loss.

6. Transactions in other jurisdictions

Transactions on markets in other jurisdictions, including markets formally linked to a domestic market, may expose you to additional risk. Such markets may be subject to regulation which may offer different or diminished investor protection. Before you trade you should enquire about any rules relevant to your particular transactions. Your local regulatory authority will be unable to compel the enforcement of the rules of regulatory authorities or markets in other jurisdictions where your transactions have been effected. You should ask the firm with which you deal for details about the types of redress available in both your home jurisdiction and other relevant jurisdictions before you start to trade.

7. Currency risks

The profit or loss in transactions in foreign currency-denominated contracts (whether they are traded in your own or another jurisdiction) will be affected by fluctuations in currency rates where there is a need to convert from the currency denomination of the contract to another currency.

8. Trading facilities

Electronic trading facilities are supported by computer-based component systems for the order-routing, execution, matching, registration or clearing of trades. As with all facilities and systems, they are vulnerable to temporary disruption or failure. Your ability to recover certain losses may be subject to limits on liability imposed by the system provider, the market, the clearing house and/or participant firms. Such limits may vary: you should ask the firm with which you deal for details in this respect.

9. Electronic trading

Trading on an electronic trading system may differ from trading on other electronic trading systems. If you undertake transactions on an electronic trading system, you will be exposed to risks associated with the system including the failure of hardware and software. The result of any system failure may be that your order is either not executed according to your instructions or is not executed at all.

10. Off-exchange transactions

In some jurisdictions, and only then in restricted circumstances, firms are permitted to effect off-exchange transactions. The firm with which you deal may be acting as your counterparty to the transaction. It may be difficult or impossible to liquidate an existing position, to assess the value, to determine a fair price or to assess the exposure to risk. For these reasons, these transactions may involve increased risks. Off-exchange transactions may be less regulated or subject to a separate regulatory regime. Before you undertake such transactions, you should familiarise yourself with applicable rules and attendant risks.

You agree and acknowledge as follows:

7. We shall be entitled to effect a Transaction for you or provide any Services to you notwithstanding any such material interest and shall not be under a duty to disclose to you any profit arising therefrom without further reference to you to the extent permissible under Applicable Law. However, in such cases we may in our absolute discretion decline to effect a Transaction with or for you.
