

21 March 2024

Important Notice – Fraudulent schemes impersonating Jefferies

There have been recent incidents of parties falsely claiming to be associated with the Jefferies Group and soliciting customers to carry out trading activities with them. We would like to alert our customers and the public to be wary of such illegal activities and to avoid interacting with the scammers. In particular, please note that Jefferies Group does not conduct any regulated activities through social media platforms or mobile apps.

Jefferies Group and its employees, directors, officers, contractors, advisors, members, successors, and agents are not responsible for any information or services provided by unauthorized parties and channels.

If you have any questions or wish to ascertain whether you are communicating with an authorized representative of Jefferies Group, please contact us at India.Communication@jefferies.com with “Scam Check” in the subject line.

If you have conducted any transactions with the scammers, you should immediately contact the local police or authorities to seek assistance. For India residents, you may lodge a report at the national cybercrime reporting portal (<https://cybercrime.gov.in/>) or call ‘1930’.

(Updated on 22 April 2024)